THE PROBLEM

With systems under unprecedented levels of stress, there's never been a more important time for healthcare providers and leaders to understand, prioritize, and respond to the needs of employees in hospitals, clinics, and across the healthcare field. Taking action will help healthcare providers:

- + Do everything possible to prioritize the safety of employees
- + Coordinate logistics across entire healthcare systems to keep all treatments and services running at peak performance

SOLUTION

Qualtrics has created a Healthcare Workforce Pulse solution enabling healthcare administrators and leaders to rapidly understand, prioritize, and respond to the most immediate needs across their teams so they can better serve patients, employees, and clinicians during this time of crisis.
